NPI Services Gives Health and Medical Electronic Products a Six-Month Checkup (July 31, 2014)

At the 2014 International Consumer Electronics Show (CES 2014) in January, NPI Services founder Judy Greenspon paid special attention to the many medical, health, and fitness electronics, in part because the latest certification at NPI Services, Inc., ISO 13485, enables production of medical devices in addition to NPI's long-established history of doing medical device prototypes. Wearing a newly acquired Fitbit® tracker, she logged many miles in Las Vegas, making her rounds though the multiple venues featuring over 3,000 exhibitors. Health tech was a major theme at this year's show, ...

FDA Eases the Way for New Product Development (July 28, 2014)

Developers of new products have been wary of health-related applications, because if their applications are considered to be medical devices, time to market may be adversely affected by the regulatory process. "Medical devices are those items that are used in diagnosing, treating, mitigating, preventing or curing disease or conditions in humans. If you look at that definition, it's pretty broad." explains Bakul Patel of the FDA, in a May 2013 interview in the FierceMobileHealthcare.com weekly newsletter. Patel is the main author of the July 21, 2011 draft of the Guidance for Industry and FDA Staff advisory document ultimately issued more than two years later, on September 25, 2013, as follows:

NPI's Fitbit® Group 1Q Miles Get Us to the Big Easy the Hard Way

Santa Claus brought Fitbits to lucky folks here at NPI, and shortly afterwards, a Fitbit group formed for friendly competition and rewards. As people joined up, the first quarter (Jan-Feb-Mar) ramped up and, wow, did those steps and miles ever add up! To give an idea how far we've gone, we've mapped our combined distances for the first quarter of 2014. The NPI Fitbit group made the equivalent of a meandering walk from NPI Services, Inc. here in Costa Mesa, to Bourbon Street in New Orleans, Louisiana! "Stops" along the way included Ivanpah Solar Power Facility, The Hoover Dam, Arcosanti, Sun Devil Stadium, Bisbee, Arizona, White Sands, New Mexico, Roswell Spacecenter NM, and NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston!
