The Best Gift a Tech Professional Can Give...

...YOUR TIME as a mentor / volunteer to students and startups!

It's also a great way to stay current on how science YOU spent a career working on gets applied to the next generation of products and services. Join Judy and the NPI Team in giving YOUR TIME to the community to help share your invaluable experience with tomorrow's aspiring technologists who are applying new technologies to advances in medical science, the environment, food, energy, etc. If your science buzz needs a re-charge, get involved with young STEM enthusiasts! YOU Are the Best Gift!

Any time is a great time to show gratitude and appreciation, but this season provides a wonderful opportunity to express how much we value our personal and professional relationships. You truly are the best gift, and we want you to know it!

We hope that the New Year will be your best and brightest ever, and that you enjoy an abundance of good health, good cheer, and may you keep on giving the wonderful gift that you alone can give - YOU!!

Sincerely,

Judy (and Rose!)
